Independent Network is backed by VEKA, a global leader in PVCu systems, bringing unmatched quality, innovation, and reliability to every installation. From British factories crafting your custom products to the meticulous local installers who treat your home with care, Independent Network stands for excellence, every step of the way.

Trustworthy Installers, Vetted for Reliability

Only the most reputable companies qualify to join the Independent Network. Each member is thoroughly vetted for financial stability and commitment to quality before joining, and we continuously audit our members through customer feedback. This ensures that our high standards are maintained, so you can trust in your installer's dedication to your project.

Quality Beyond Installation

Our quality commitment starts long before the installation begins. Every Independent Network member focuses primarily on VEKA PVCu systems and is regularly audited through customer feedback to ensure excellence. You'll receive a Customer Satisfaction Questionnaire upon completion, which helps us continue to improve our services and activates your Guarantee Certificate.

Complete Peace of Mind – The Independent Network Guarantee

We understand that quality and security go hand-in-hand. That's why every installation is protected by a comprehensive 10-Year Insurance-Backed Guarantee. From the moment your installer registers your order with us, your investment is covered, giving you peace of mind long after installation.
